NO GAME IN WORLD'S SERIES

Sun Is Shining, but Grounds
Are Sloppy in Quakers'
Bailiwick

Hardly Probable Giants and Athletics Will Contest Before Wednesday

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The fourth baseball game between Philadelphia and New York in the series for the world's championship was postponed today for the fifth time. The weather was fair, but the grounds were too wet to play.

Under instructions of the National Commission, an early decision was made by the umpires. Only two of them, Klem and Brennan, went to Shibe park and it did not take them many minutes to decide to call the game off until tomorrow. They found many puddles in the outfield and the infield, and the clay along the base paths was quite soft.

The grounds looked so bad to Umpire Brennan that he expressed the opinion that the sun would have to come out strong to dry the grounds sufficiently to permit a game tomorrow. He felt sure a game would be played Wednesday. The weather forecast for the week calls for more rain, beginning Thursday, and cold weather.

PLAYERS REPORT:

The members of the Philadelphia team reported at the grounds today as usual and put on their uniforms for practice along the side lines. The New York players expect to indulge in a little work on the National League grounds. Overhead the day is fine for baseball, the sun is shining brightly and a good breeze is blowing.

The present world's series is a record-breaker for breaking records. Not only has the series exceeded the figures for attendance and receipts at one game, but the record for the number of postponements of one game has also gone by the board. Furthermore, the present series will come to a close at a later date than any series heretofore played. Since the world's championship games have been played under the rules of the National Commission they have ended on the following dates: 1905, October 14; 1906, October 12; 1907, October 15; 1908, October 14; 1909, October 16; 1910, October 25.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—The fourteenth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities opened here today for a five days session. Among the first delegates to arrive this morning were Frank K. Mott, mayor of Oakland, and J. Stitt Wilson, the Socialist head of the Berkeley city government. One of the features of the convention is a "Model City" exhibit which is under the charge of Mayor Stone of Santa Cruz.

Rockefeller.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The Rev. Arthur T. Brooks, John D. Rockefeller's Tarrytown pastor, is today celebrating the completion of his first year at the Baptist church. Commenting on his relations with the oil magnate he said:

"I preach to Mr. Rockefeller as a man; I don't know him as a millionaire. As a man he is one of the finest Christian gentlemen I ever met. He is a true Democrat. There is not a trace of snobbishness about him. He speaks as kindly to the poorest in our church as to those who have wealth. He is one of the last men out of the church."

LYMAN CASE IS SET FOR TRIAL REDUCTION OF BAIL IS DENIED

DR. J. GRANT LYMAN, who was arraigned today in the Federal Court, San Francisco.

Physician-Promoter Hobbles Into the Court on Crutches Minus Air of Confidence

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Dr. J. Grant Lyman, whose sensational escape from the Providence Hospital in Oakland, put the federal officers on their metal for nearly a month, has reached the conclusion that the getaway was not so funny after all, and this morning refused to regard the whole affair as a joke. That it is a serious joke to him is indicated by the fact that he has obtained the services of Attorney Carroll Cook, who appeared for him before United States District Judge De Haven.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Dr. Lyman, still hobbling feebly on his crutches, entered the courtroom, and a half an hour later was locked in the temporary prison room in consultation with his attorney, having failed to obtain a reduction of his bail, from $10,000 to $1,000. His case has been continued until Wednesday to plead.

Lyman sat in the jury box, with Attorney Cook just behind him, and five deputy marshals, with their eyes upon him, gutting off any possible avenue of escape. When his case was called, Attorney Cook immediately petitioned for a reduction of the bail, saying: "My client is charged with a conspiracy to escape, but if there was any such conspiracy the chief conspirator is now at liberty on $1,000. I believe Dr. Lyman is entitled to the same consideration."

Counsel submitted the motion, which was denied by the court without it being necessary for Assistant United States Attorney E. L. McKinley to argue on the matter at all.

Oaklander Recovers Very Valuable Diamond Ring

PIEDMONT, Oct. 23.—After a search covering a period of several weeks, a diamond ring which Richard E. Jeffry of Vernal avenue lost recently was returned to him a few days ago by someone who had seen the owner drop it in a street car. The stone was valued at $1500. Frequent reports were heard by Jeffry to the effect that the jewel was on display in one of the show windows of a local establishment and upon that rumor he and detectives made a careful investigation, which finally revealed the temporary custodian of the ring. According to his story he picked it up after Jeffry had made his exit from the car. He said he had it reset and did not mar its beauty.

On recovering the ring Jeffry stated that he would not prosecute.

Martial Law Maintained At Scene of Race Riots

MUSKOGEE, Ok., Oct. 23.—All is quiet in Coweta, following race riots of last night, in which one white man and a negro were killed and two white men and a negro fatally wounded. Company F of the State militia, which was sent from Muskogee to the troubled scene at midnight, is maintaining martial law. Early today John R. Thomas, an American, was found seriously shot outside Coweta. Barely conscious, he told of having been waylaid by armed negroes in the night. State militiamen today arrested twelve negroes in Coweta. The negroes were searched and in nearly every case the authorities say they found arms hidden.

DEATH ENDS WALSH'S CAREER

Freedom of Former Banker of Brief Duration; Dies of Heart Disease

Released From the Penitentiary
Nine Days Ago After Serving 21 Months

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—John R. Walsh, former banker, publisher and railroad owner, released a week ago from the Leavenworth federal penitentiary, died today of heart disease.

Walsh had been in bed most of the time since his arrival here from Leavenworth, October 15. He had been attended constantly by physicians. Intermittent reports of Walsh's failing health during his incarceration had been denied at the penitentiary. On his release it was plain that he had aged and he gave up plans for a resumption of his position as a financial leader and took to his bed.

Walsh was 74 years of age. Death came just nine days after his release on parole from the federal penitentiary, where he had served one year, eight months and twenty-six days of a five-year sentence on a charge of misappropriating the funds of the bank to the use of other enterprises.

HEALTH FAILS.

Walsh's health failed soon after his entrance to the penitentiary. An immediate movement to obtain his release on a parole was begun by members of his family, Mrs. Mary L. Walsh and his two sons, Richard W. Walsh and John W. Walsh. At that time the examining physician at the penitentiary said Walsh was suffering from hardening of the arteries.

Members of the family announced, after the former banker reached home, that he had given up all hopes of regaining his lost position among the leaders of finance, and said that he would spend his days at home.

Walsh's son, Richard, to whom he was paroled, became his nominal employer, in accordance with the government proviso that the first "friend" of a paroled man must guaranty employment.

The former banker was surrounded by all the members of his family when he died. He was stricken with a sinking spell about noon yesterday. Physicians remained with him all night, but he never regained consciousness.

ILL ON RELEASE.

"Death was caused by myocarditis, an inflammation of the heart muscles," said Dr. Joseph H. Low, who attended him. "When Mr. Walsh returned from the penitentiary his legs and muscles were swollen badly from the disease."

COURT REFUSES TO ALLOW CHALLENGE AGAINST M'KEE Man Who Believes Times Was Dyna- mited Is Passed by Judge Bordwell in McNamara Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Firm belief that the Los Angeles Times was destroyed by dynamite is not necessarily a bar to jury service in the McNamara murder case, according to a ruling made by Judge Walter Bordwell today. The judge held that the juror's belief that the Times was dynamited was not a challenge to the jury's duty to try the case.

The juror, George W. McKee, who held such a view, would, in the opinion of the court, give a fair verdict in the case. Today's decision makes it necessary for the defense to use a peremptory challenge to get rid of him. The ruling is the first point considered as of consequence since the trial began and the defense expected to it after a passage of words with the court.

The judge's ruling in part follows: "Juror McKee testified that he had a definite opinion as to the cause of the explosion and that it would require evidence to remove that opinion. He has, however, stated positively, that notwithstanding that opinion, which, as he explained was formed entirely from reading statements in the public journals and public rumor and notoriety, he could act as a juror in this case impartially and fairly upon the matters to be submitted to him."

QUESTIONS OF FACT.

"I do not think the court is bound by the mere statement of a prospective juror that he could so act. It is a question of fact for the court to determine. But if the court is satisfied either from the juror's statement or the circumstances which are available, that he can act thus fairly and impartially, the court has no discretion, but must allow that the juror is qualified."

"Now, do you think that under that condition upon that matter he can act fairly and impartially?" asked Attorney Lecompte Davis for the defense.

The court: "I think so, from the testimony of McKee taken as a whole. I have examined it carefully and considered it and taking into consideration all the questions asked of him and all the answers which he has given I cannot upon my conscience come to any conclusion other than that he can and will act fairly and impartially upon all matters submitted to him and require just as much proof upon the part of the prosecution in this case before he would come to the conclusion that the defendant was guilty, as he would require if he had no views on any subject connected with the case. Being of that opinion as a matter of fact, I must come to the conclusion as a matter of law under this subdivision of the penal code that the juror is qualified."

After considerable discussion, the court again explained his position.

"The ultimatum question which we are seeking to determine is whether or not, notwithstanding his opinion, the juror can act impartially," he said.

Mr. Scott: "If your honor please, (Continued on Page 2, Cols. 2-3.)

European Bankers Refuse a Temporary Loan of $3,000,000

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The German foreign office received inquiries today from the United States government regarding the situation brought about by the revolution in China.

Germany believes that the situation does not call for international action. It is considered that the naval forces in Chinese waters are apparently adequate for the protection of foreigners should the latter be endangered, of which contingency there is, however, no sign at the present time.

EUROPEAN BANKERS.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The negotiations between China and the four groups of bankers who arranged the currency reform loan of $50,000,000, have been suspended. The international bankers concerned recently refused China's request for a temporary loan of $3,000,000 for its war fund, preferring to maintain a neutral attitude as between the government and the revolutionists.

General Chang Piao Takes His Own Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—News was received here today by the Chung Shai Yat Po, a Chinese newspaper, that General Chang Piao of the imperial troops, who was sentenced to death for cowardice, had committed suicide before the decree could be carried out. Viceroy Jui Cheng of Hupeh and Hunan provinces successfully escaped, before he could be punished by the imperial authorities for a similar offense.

In Nan King the viceroy is disarming the new army in fear of treason, retaining their arms and military supplies while sending them to stations in the loyal provinces. The finding of thirteen cases of dynamite there yesterday gave the government great alarm.

OFF COME QUEUES.

Chinese barbers in San Francisco have been working overtime cutting queues during the last few days. The queue-cutting proclamation of the revolutionists has been posted boldly at the entrance to the imperial consulate here. To part with their ancient badge of distinction evidently went hard with some of the older coolies.

They are now wearing oversized American caps to cover their loss. American dress is becoming popular among the younger Chinese, who began to wear their hair short several years ago.

PLAN CELEBRATION.

Preparations for a celebration have been made in Chinatown in front of the revolutionary headquarters by the Chinese Free Masons Society, which has been secretly planning for a republic during the past twenty years.

Secretary Tong King Chong of the Chinese National Association, received a letter today from Charles Hilles, secretary to President Taft, acknowledging the receipt of the telegram asking for (Continued on Page 2, Cols. 1-2.)

PHYSICAL WRECK RESTORED TO HEALTH BY GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

I feel it my duty to furnish you with my testimonial as to what your remedy Swamp-Root did for me when I was a physical wreck from kidney and bladder trouble.

Some years ago I was not able to do any work and could only just creep around and am satisfied that had it not been for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I would not have lived. After using the preparation for one month I was able to work some and when I had used $8.00 worth of Swamp-Root I could do a good day's work. I used about $10.00 worth altogether and could not take $10,000 for the good that it did me. I consider it good to send to suffering humanity for the diseases for which you recommend it and have recommended it to many sufferers.

Chinese Buy Bonds of New Republic

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—A quiet sale of bonds on the provisional Chinese republic is going on among the Chinese in Los Angeles, according to Ho Lee, the head of the Young China movement in this city. Each bond is issued for $10 and sold for $12.

The document, which resembles an ordinary banknote, sets forth that the China-Hwa government will pay the bearer its face value at the time of the government's formation. The bonds will be made in gold at the treasury of state or at the foreign agencies of the provisional government, says the inscription, which is in English on one side and in Chinese on the other.

The bonds are signed by Sun Wen, president, and Lee Gnome Hap, treasurer. Sun Wen is said by the Chinese to be another name for Sun Yat Sen, the provisional president.

So far 323 bonds have been sold among the 3000 Chinese of this city, practically all of whom, according to Ho Lee, are in sympathy with the revolution. The sale so far has brought in $4665, an amount which is expected to be largely increased soon, not only by further sales, but by direct contributions.

Ho Lee says that financial aid to the extent of $35,000 has been promised by the backers of the revolution by a number of American bankers in the event the provisional government is established.

Rebels Occupy Nan Chang and Chang Sha

SHANGHAI, Oct. 23.—The occupation by revolutionists of two more important southern cities, Chang Sha and Nan Chang, was announced in dispatches which reached this city early today. Chang Sha is the capital of the province of Hunan, and Nan Chang is the capital of the province of Kiangsi. Their capture, therefore, delivers into revolutionary hands the last two provinces of the empire. The revolutionaries, thereby more than doubling the territory in which the rebels are masters.

Chang Sha, with 300,000 population, is the chief center of the railway between Hankow and Canton. It is the seat of Ya Li College, the Chinese extension of Yale University. Chang Sha is 200 miles south of Hankow. Chang Sha, with 100,000 population, is correspondingly situated, 200 miles southeast of Hankow. The fall of Chang Sha and Nan Chang had been rumored here for some days. Today's dispatches definitely confirm that both cities are entirely in the hands of the revolutionists.

FOUR IN REVOLT

Four of China's eighteen provinces are now regarded as under revolutionary influence. The revolutionaries have now started; Hupeh, of which Wu Chang is the capital; Hunan and Kiangsi. The fall of Nanjing, where the garrison is regarded as siding with the revolutionists, would deliver to them the viceregal government of two more provinces, Kiang Su and Hgan Hwei.

The entire Yangtze valley is gradually accumulating the revolutionary infection. No uprising has yet been reported at Nanking, which is only 300 miles above Shanghai, but there is every reason to believe that the revolution will spread to that city. Nanking is not only a great commercial center, but is also the most important military depot in Central China, and its fall would be a great blow to the government has yet received. It is generally admitted that unless the government succeeds speedily in dealing a decisive blow to its adversaries the revolution will spread of its own momentum over a great belt of territory across Central China.

REFUGEES FLOCK IN

Refugees of all nationalities continue to flock into Shanghai from points up the Yangtze river. They are flocking to the city in great numbers and with the revolutionists everywhere is with the revolutionists and widespread support is being given the agents of the new government. Business there cannot be regarded as being in the cities on the lower river and the commercial depression in Shanghai is complete. A large number of Americans from various points have appealed to Consul General Ames F.

RULINGS OF JUDGE BORDWELL AROUSE GREATER INTEREST IN MAMARA CASE

Talesman A. C. Robison Allowed to Go After Court Further Interrogates Him at Today's Session will that govern also as to those jurors that have a strong opinion, and that will take strong evidence to show that the building was not blown up by gas?

Mr. Scott: "Why do you ask me that question now?"

Mr. Scott: "Because we want to know."

The court: "You will find out when you come to it. Do you think that I would use one side differently from the other?"

Mr. Scott: "No, sir, but the district attorney has taken that position."

Another collision occurred just at the close of court, when Talesman Willis F. Oliver, answering a question by Darrow, said he knew of no reason why laboring men should strike.

"If you mean that they are not required or not proper," asked Judge Bordwell.

"I object to your question, your honor," said Attorney Darrow emphatically.

"I am examining this man. I think the question is a proper one, and the objection is overruled," replied Judge Bordwell.

"Well, I think the question conflicts with my line of examination."

"Oh, that group," said the court, "said the court, 'I was simply getting at his state of mind.'"

Court here recessed until 2 o'clock. Only fifteen men outside the jury box and six in it of the original 125 veniremen summoned to try James B. McNamara for murder, remained when court convened today at the beginning of the third trial week. No juror had qualified finally. Three talesmen, Seaborn Manning, Robert Bain and F. D. Green, had been "passed" or temporarily accepted by both sides.

With a few minutes after court opened, Talesman A. C. Robinson and A. R. McIntosh had been excused by Judge Bordwell, leaving only twenty-three talesmen and veniremen. Both men said they were opposed to conviction in a capital case on circumstantial evidence.

SETS ASIDE RULING. Judge Bordwell was late in arriving and court did not convene until 10:22 o'clock.

Judge Bordwell first announced that his ruling of Friday disallowing the challenge against A. C. Robinson was set aside and on account of the tangled record he would further interrogate him. Robinson then took the stand. The court read some of the answers in the record, asking Robinson again his views on capital punishment.

After interrogating Talesman Robinson, Judge Bordwell, who Friday refused to grant the State's challenge against this man and today set aside that ruling, which was provisional, let the talesman go. Robinson was opposed to voting the death penalty on circumstantial evidence.

The court used several illustrations as to the meaning of circumstantial evidence and Robinson maintained that he fully understood what it comprehended, but would not convict on it, and Judge Bordwell reversed his ruling by allowing the challenge of the State and excusing Robinson.

A. R. McIntosh, also challenged by the State and upon whom a ruling was pending, next was questioned by the court. McIntosh reiterated his "views against" inflicting the death penalty on circumstantial evidence and was excused.

Talesman McKee's case was next considered. He testified that he had an opinion on the facts of the case, but that he would require evidence to remove.

"From McKee's testimony as a whole," ruled Judge Bordwell, "I cannot come to any conclusion but that he will act fairly and impartially, and though he has opinions on the case, he appears able to set them aside, therefore the challenge will not be allowed."

"Will that govern all cases of jurors who have an opinion on the case?" inquired Attorney Joseph Scott of the defense.

"Well, do you ask that question?" said the judge.

"Well, we want to know where we are at."

COURT IS ABRUPT. "Do you think I would act partially to one side or another? We'll pass on this thing as we come to it," replied the court abruptly.

The attorneys for the defense were dissatisfied with the ruling and argued with the court that if McKee was not allowed to act, the building was blown up by dynamite, and the prosecution would have just so much less of its case to prove to him.

Attorney Darrow read some of McKee's answers.

"I have given the matter careful consideration," said Judge Bordwell, interrupting him.

"All that we can do then is to save our exception," said Attorney Darrow, as he tossed on the table the record from which he had been reading.

"The next thing to do is to fill the jury box," said Judge Bordwell, ending the wrangle of the attorneys. On the jury box were seated the twelve jurors, and the process of alternate interrogation of the eight new talesmen immediately was begun.

When the jury box was filled only ten veniremen remained of the original 125 called.

Willis F. Oliver, a purchasing agent for a meat packing concern, was the first of the new talesmen examined.

He said he came here from Illinois ten years ago, where he also was in the meat packing business.

"As much as I know of them, I have no prejudice against labor," said Oliver, when asked his views on the labor question.

"As I understand it, you have not been especially interested in unions?" asked Darrow.

"No," replied Oliver.

"Have you company taken any stand on the labor question?"

"Not that I know of."

"Does your firm belong to the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association?"

"How do you know?"

"I looked it up in the records."

"Why did you do that?"

IN SUSPICIOUS WAY. "Oh, in a suspicious way," said Oliver, with a smile.

"Did your firm contribute to the fund for the investigation of the Times explosion?"

"I don't know."

Oliver admitted that he had looked up his firm's connection with the association so that he might ascertain "if there was any reasonable excuse" to prevent him from serving on the jury.

"You know that the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has been fighting the labor unions here?"

"Yes."

"Would that be a matter which would influence you in any way?"

"None whatever."

Public Fleeing in Panic From Wu Wu

WU HU, Province of Ngan Hwei, China, Oct. 23.—A Japanese firm at Nanking telegraphs today that the gates of that city have been closed and no one is allowed to enter except after a close examination. The public is panic-stricken and aodus is under way. All ready 10 per cent of the population of Nanking has left. Foreign war vessels are passing; here daily proceeding up the river.

Without any such statement being made it was said that the price of the enterprise were laying the foundation for a twenty-year monopoly in county pisciculture and the marketing of the results, and several of the members of the board stalled on the suggestion of the privilege extending over so long a period as twenty years.

At the suggestion of Chairman Mullins the matter of preparing a tentative contract between the promoters of the hatchery and the county (the term of its operation to be determined later) was referred to the District Attorney to be reported back next Monday.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE COMMITTEE TO MEET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The executive committee of the Carnegie endowment for international peace, will meet in New York Thursday to complete its report to the board of trustees, whose annual meeting will be held here December 14. The report will embrace the general plan of work for 1912, with estimates of appropriations needed.

PLAN TO ESTABLISH PRIVATE HATCHERY

Enterprise Designed for Purpose of Raising Trout to Be Sold on Market.

Dr. C. A. Willis and associates appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday to propose a project for the establishment of a private trout hatchery at Mission San Jose. The project would be situated on the fish and game laws of the state provided for the establishment of private hatcheries.

According to the explanation made by Dr. Willis, the law allows the sale of fish and game to be made in the market during that time of the year when fishing in the streams is prohibited. DEATH ENDS HER MARRIAGE PLANS

Funeral, Not Wedding Bells, Will Sound for Pretty Berkeley Girl.

BERKELEY, Oct. 23.—A few weeks before the date set for her wedding, Miss Ada Bertrand of 2131 Ward street, died suddenly at Alta Bates Sanitarium Saturday evening, following an accident sustained four months ago, which was not believed at that time to be serious. Early in the coming year she was to have married Andrew Christiansen, an Antioch automobile dealer, formerly of Oakland, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Christiansen of 606 Merrimac street.

Miss Bertrand, who was a daughter of Mrs. Mary B. Bertrand, fell from a pile of boxes four months ago and soon afterwards felt pains in the abdomen, but medical aid was not thought necessary until last Monday, when Dr. R. F. The date was called in and ascertained that there had been a rupture of the ligaments of the stomach, causing an internal abscess. An operation was performed the following day at the hospital. Miss Bertrand and Christiansen agreed earlier in their romance that if trouble befell either, nothing should keep them apart. She sent a telephone message to Christiansen on Saturday morning telling of her serious condition. Her death came suddenly, however, and he failed to reach her bedside before the end came.

Miss Bertrand leaves besides her mother, two sisters, Miss Aik Bertrand and Mrs. W. J. Hamill. She was a native of California, aged 20 years.

WARDEN NOT SURPRISED. LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Oct. 23.—When news of the sudden death of John R. Walsh was conveyed to Major R. W. McLaughrey, warden of the federal penitentiary here this morning, he said:

"I am not surprised. I was afraid during his stay here that he would never leave the penitentiary alive. Particularly on the day of his parole I was anxious for him. His condition had become weakened and the excitement incident to his release overwhelmed him."

When Walsh was released he insisted on making the 24-mile trip to Kansas City in an automobile. His son, Richard Walsh, who had come from Chicago to attend his father, protested, but the aged man insisted that he was able to stand the journey.

When he arrived at Kansas City to board a train for Chicago Walsh plainly showed the effects of the trip. He remained cheerful, however, and insisted he was all right.

"Father is feeling fine," said the young man when reporters approached. "Even the long motor ride did not tire him. I expect him to be back in a few days."

The ex-banker's smilingly nodded assent to what his son had said. He declined to make any statement. Walsh served one year, eight months and twenty-six days of the five-year sentence. He appeared personally before the parole board on September 26 last to present his petition for release.

The program for the first annual included only exercises strictly religious in character at All Souls' church of which President Taft is a regular attendant. It has been expected that President Taft would address the conference on the question of international peace, and as he is absent from Washington, it is probable that a message from him bearing upon that subject will be ready before the gathering tomorrow evening.

HEARST PRAISED BY MANY FOR HIS RETURN

Welcomed Back to Democratic Fold by Those Who Wield Power.

HIS INFLUENCE GREAT. SAYS THOS. GIBLIN

Mayor Harrison of Chicago is Enthusiastic Over His Coming Back.

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, candidate for lieutenant governor, speaking of William Randolph Hearst's return to the Democracy, said yesterday:

"William R. Hearst's heart and brain have been given to the cause of the people for years. His return to the Democratic party means that a tremendous influence is to be exerted in increasing the strength of those who are engaged in the fight. Our party is making for the rule of the people. Mr. Hearst's return to the Democracy means more than can be estimated."

Former Congressman William S. McNary said:

"Mr. Hearst's return to the Democracy means a great added strength for the cause of true Democratic principles. The Democratic vote will be greatly increased as a result."

WIELDS GREAT INFLUENCE.

Thomas J. Giblin of Boston, candidate for the House of Representatives, said: "William R. Hearst's return to the Democracy means a great added strength for the cause of true Democratic principles. The Democratic vote will be greatly increased as a result."

James H. Vahey of Watertown, twice Democratic candidate for governor, said: "Mr. Hearst's return to the party is bound to be a source of great strength. It means that those who are in favor of the best in government will be greatly encouraged, for the great masses of the people realize that the only hope for success lies in the co-operation of all who are opposed to those who have used the government for the enrichment of themselves at the expense of the rest."

SOURCE OF GREAT STRENGTH.

Joseph A. Maynard, chairman of the Emergency committee, said: "William R. Hearst has always been a tower of strength for those who have been fighting for the cause of popular government. His return to the Democracy at this time means that the hands of those who have fought in the ranks of that party are wonderfully strengthened. It augurs increased strength for the national party in the elections of next year; it augurs well for the assured success of Foss in Massachusetts this year."

MAYOR HARRISON ENTHUSIASTIC.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Mayor Carter E. Harrison of Chicago expressed his enthusiasm over Mr. Hearst's return to the Democracy. He said: "I am glad and Democracy is glad that William Randolph Hearst has returned to the fold. His return is mutual, the party needs his staunch determination, his upright character and his moral backing of his great newspapers; it needs his forte for effective organization and keen sympathy with the American people, of whom he is proud to count himself one. On the other hand, all of these, his attributes, can find better and more efficient expression within the confidence of the organization founded by Thomas Jefferson."

"Mr. Hearst's ideas and expressions have always been purely Democratic. Even when the party did not have the good fortune to number him as one of its supporters, he alone was spreading the great propaganda of the people's rights."

"And his influence was felt throughout the nation. His return to Democracy is bound to give a powerful impetus to the progressive movement. Tens of thousands of his adherents will be added to the fold with him and the Democratic vote at the next presidential election will be greatly augmented. It is a happy reunion of a great party and a great man and portends a glorious national victory."

"Mr. Hearst has always stood for the rule of the people, and so has Democracy. In his heart of hearts he never left the beaten path, and now that he has returned the moral influence of his own vigorous personality and the benefit of his great organization will mean more than can be estimated."

WELCOME TO PARTY.

Colonel Alfred E. Greene of Duxbury, candidate for the governor's council, said: "As a Democrat I welcome to the party an individual and organization which stands for government by the people, rather than by corporations. In Massachusetts I regard the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad as inimical to the interests of the great mass of voters. The Boston American has stood steadfastly against corporation rule in this commonwealth and as a result of his progressive newspaper, let me say that William Randolph Hearst has a place in the Democratic party which no one else can fill."

Paul Hannigan, of Lawrence, member of the Democratic state committee, said: "It is a grand thing to welcome to the party a man of influence and power. No man in America can do more for the party which stands for the people than William Randolph Hearst, who has ever stood for the rights of the great mass of the people against corporation influence and control."

WORKS FOR HUMANITY.

William H. O'Brien of Boston, formerly a leading member of the House of Representatives, said: "The work done for humanity by William R. Hearst through his chain of great newspapers can never be properly estimated. It augurs strength for any political party engaged in a fight for good government. It is a popular government—to have its cause embraced by such a man with such a record as he has in waging the people's battle against the hosts of special privileges."

Andrew J. Fellers, congressman, said: "Mr. Hearst's influence throughout the

In the middle ages the highest ideals of trade were constantly maintained. The Guilds ruled industry, and no man could share their privileges until he had earned the right by might of merit. Years of patient endeavor were necessary to acquire that skill which entitled the journeymen to participate in their membership, which privilege, once obtained, was instantly withdrawn if the craftsman degraded his product or defrauded his patron.

The leading merchant tailors of Oakland, actuated by the traditions which prevailed in their ancient guild, have organized themselves into a modern guild, to exalt made-to-measure clothes to the highest possible plane of excellence. Relying upon the dignity of their pursuit, they have hitherto neglected their first duty—that self-advertisement which is self-protection.

In the loud hubbub of modern publicity they have been at a great disadvantage. Recognizing thoroughly the necessity for their existence, they have presumed an equal familiarity on the part of the layman and thereby have permitted themselves to be tried without representation in the court of public opinion.

By means of editorials, appearing at regular intervals, the Tailors' Guild has planned to tell the true mission of their art—to justify and defend its utility. Week by week, incontrovertible reasons will be advanced to demonstrate the logical supremacy of made-to-order clothes, and correct any erroneous impressions that prevail with respect to their value and superiority.

FAMILY TREES OF TWO ARE TANGLED

Rockefeller and Astors Were Next Door Neighbors 200 Years Ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The Rockefeller and the Astors, whose only visible connection in these days is that both have lots of money, were old time neighbors and perhaps friends a couple of hundred years back along the banks of the Rhine, according to the latest development of the famous Foele genealogy, which shows John D. to be the descendant of royalty.

Foele writes as follows: "The Rockefeller came from the same stock as the Astors—that is, Riparian Franks. The family name was the east end of the Rhine; the Rockefeller from the west side—Rhine Palatinate (Rheinpfalz)."

"The people of the Rhine Palatinate were a military police force colonized by the king of France in 1680. The pass over the Harard mountains. 'Just 200 years ago 3000 Palatinates left home. They founded the cities of New Palz and Newburgh, N. Y. The Rockefeller, who arrived in San Francisco on Saturday, spent his second day in this city yesterday with E. T. Jeffery, president, and Charles H. Scholacks, vice-president of the company. In the morning they met at the St. Francis and in the afternoon had a conference in the offices of the Western Pacific in the Mills building."

SLEEPWALKER FALLS.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—In an attack of somnambulism, John Bennett, a gardener, employed on the estate of William Miller Graham in Montecito walked out of the second story window of the palatial home and was found lying on the ground. Physicians found that the fall of 25 feet had broken his back. Bennett had been in the employ of the Grahams for years and previously it has not been known that he walked in his sleep.

country is equalled by few of our citizens. His course of independence has made his return to the Democracy of especial importance and should bring to that party much added strength—strength brought by the voters who are directly influenced by his position on public matters and indirectly as showing the trend of the people generally toward Democracy."

"Mr. Hearst's return to the Democracy is one of the hopeful signs of the times."

"It means the cause of popular government is advancing and that the claims of the Democracy to the honor of leading the people's fight is recognized by the leading independent figure in politics."

In the morning they met at the St. Francis and in the afternoon had a conference in the offices of the Western Pacific in the Mills building.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON IS ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 23.—Edward T. Gibson, alias Edward Gray, who is wanted at Salem, Hood River and other Coast cities on charges of forgery, was arrested here late yesterday and is being held awaiting the arrival of the Salem officers.

It was while attempting to pass a worthless check on the local Southern Pacific agent that he was first suspected of being a bad-paper artist. Telegrams were sent to Hood River and Salem and tonight instructions were received to arrest him at once. It is said Gibson also operated in Kansas City quite extensively under the name of Dr. Gray.

AMERICANS TO SUE MEXICO FOR DAMAGES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Approximately 150 claims for damages resulting from the Mexican revolt have been filed by Americans with the State Department for transmission to the Mexican Interior Court of Claims, established by President Madero to adjust all damages. Most of these claims are small ones from the border residents. They range in amount from a few dollars to $5000. Douglas, Ariz., on the Rio Grande, has more of the claims than any other section. It was at this point Americans gathered to witness the conflict when the Federal and Madero forces opened an engagement just across the river.

CONNECTICUT GOBBLER FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 23.—Connecticut hopes to supplant Rhode Island this year for the honor of supplying President Taft's table with a Thanksgiving turkey. A local farmer has an especially attractive and supposedly toothsome gobbler which already weighs nearly 30 pounds and which will take on added weight under the special training of the weeks to come. It is being fed on a diet of blended cereals mixed with nuts, wild rice and wild celery steeped in sweet wines. This diet is expected to produce a piquant taste, something like a combination of Scotch quail and American woodcock.

Professor Munyon Wants All
Afflicted to Come to His Offices.

Indigestion has baffled the skill of the medical world in all times. Temporary relief has been the most physicians have been able to give.

Millions have gone through life suffering the torments of the damned, such as belching of wind, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, shooting pains in the stomach, dizziness, constipation, distress after eating, sleeplessness and melancholy.

A sick stomach is responsible for not only rheumatism and kidney ailments, but nearly every other disease. When the stomach is digesting its food properly the liver and bowels do their duty, the nerves are fed with good, rich blood, and the whole system is stimulated, strengthened and energized.

Professor Munyon claims that his remedies will eliminate these little parasites and will correct nearly every form of stomach, liver and nerve trouble. He says the worst obstacle he has to overcome is doubt, for people have spent so much money drugging themselves with all sorts of nostrums that they have little faith in anything new that is offered. "I want people," he says, "to come to me with full expectation of getting well."

In many cases, Professor Munyon says, all medicines can be discarded after the first ten days. In rheumatic troubles his remedies neutralize the uric acid so quickly that a complete cure is generally made in a few hours.

Sharp, shooting pains, swollen limbs and stiff joints, lame back, disappear as if by magic. The best of all, the treatment contains no morphine, opium, cocaine, salicylic acid or any harmful drug. On the contrary, it is beneficial to the stomach, heart and nerves.

His improved Paw Paw Tonic for the stomach and nerves, which he has designated as the Ellixir of Life, is making scores of converts in this city. It seems to have the power of digesting everything put into the stomach, and is a powerful tonic in building up weak, tired nerves. Professor Munyon employs regular licensed graduated physicians to make examinations and give advice absolutely free. In this city they are located in the Macdonough Building, 14th and Broadway, and in San Francisco in the Emery Building, 702 Market street. A prominent physician said: "I never saw rheumatic pains driven out of the system and weak stomachs restored to their normal condition so quickly. Certainly medical science is conquering these two great enemies of mankind, and the world owes Professor Munyon its undying thanks."

Professor Munyon says he hopes every sufferer from stomach, liver or nerve ailment will call at his offices here, and he is especially anxious that every person suffering from rheumatism, no matter how chronic, will give his rheumatic treatment a trial, because he believes it will banish cause and condition forever.

CREW WINS FIGHT WITH HURRICANE

Schooner Golden Shore Limp
Into Port After Struggle With Elements.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Flying a signal of distress, the schooner Golden Shore, which sailed from Gray's harbor in October bound for Autogasta, Chile, with a cargo of lumber, passed through the Golden Gate yesterday morning in a leaky condition as the result of an encounter with a hurricane off the northern coast October 13. The schooner was thrown on her beam ends in the gale and the tremendous strain on the hull opened the seams and the sea poured into her hold. For three days and nights Captain Christensen and his crew worked the pumps incessantly in order to keep the craft afloat.

When the storm subsided the crew was completely exhausted and in a body went off and sought the captain to abandon the ship. Captain Christensen, who was accompanied by his wife and two boys, refused to desert the vessel, and induced the crew to return to their posts and aid him in bringing her into port for repairs. When the schooner entered the harbor the crew was nearly worn out. The Golden Shore is owned by the Slade Lumber Company and after her cargo has been transferred to another vessel she will be put on the dry dock for repairs.

CREW IS RESCUED.
VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 23.—The steamer Ironclad, running from Seattle to Vancouver, ran down and cut in two the tug Nonaka, owned by J. I. Wilson of this city. The tug sank in eight minutes after the crash. The crew of the tugboat were rescued uninjured. The loss was $50,000, covered by insurance.

ENTIRE NEW BILL WEEKLY FOR OAKLAND'S ORPHEUM

Holdover Acts Soon to Be Thing of the Past at Local House

The Oakland Orpheum is to have a complete new vaudeville show each week hereafter, commencing on Sunday, November 12.

This important and interesting announcement was made today when Manager George Ebey of the Oakland Orpheum gave out the statement that President M. Meyerfeld Jr. and General Manager Martin Beck of the Orpheum Company have ordered a change in the booking policy of the company, whereby the Oakland Orpheum will be given a complete new show each week, instead of every two weeks as heretofore.

The new order of things is to begin on Sunday, November 12. On that day a complete show of eight vaudeville acts will take the stage, and after that week the procession of vaudeville features will march in every Sunday, bringing to the theater an absolute new show each Sunday afternoon.

This news is calculated to delight immensely the 50,000 regular patrons of the Oakland Orpheum.

Oakland has given the Orpheum theater magnificent support during the past four years, and it is partly by way of reward for that support that the Orpheum magnates have decided to favor the city with a notable concession. In the form of a complete new show for each week of the season.

Only theatrical men who have had experience in booking and handling theatrical companies can understand the immense difficulty and labor involved in making such a change as this in a theater's business. There is a vast deal of added expense incurred in the making of this change, but as usual the Orpheum people give no heed to expense when it comes to satisfying their theater-going public.

BIG HOUSES EXPECTED.

For several months the directing heads of the Orpheum Company have been at work on the problem of providing Oakland with a new show each week, and now that the task of making the arrangements is completed the official announcement is made. President Meyerfeld today authorized the local management of the Oakland Orpheum to give out the news that on November 12 the new policy will be inaugurated, and that on and after that date the Orpheum theater will be provided with a complete new show each week. President Meyerfeld naturally expects that so great an improvement in the way of added novelties and freshness to the vaudeville bill will receive the hearty approbation of Oakland theatergoers, and that the appreciation will take the form of constantly packed houses.

Expected theatrical men, with President Meyerfeld in this belief and all of them state that the Oakland Orpheum will now be even more notably a successful theatrical property than it has been in the past.

The change of policy at the Oakland Orpheum as announced today was the one subject of gossip and comment along the local rialto. Theatrical people were all immensely interested in the news, for it is indicative of a career of extraordinary success for the Oakland Orpheum in excess even of that which the house has enjoyed during the last four years.

SACRAMENTO ORPHEUM.

The way was made clear for this important improvement at the Oakland Orpheum by the opening of a new Orpheum theater in Sacramento, which is to be devoted to the housing of Orpheum shows. The Orpheum acts will hereafter come directly from the north to Sacramento, playing there for four days of the week. Then will follow an entire week in Oakland. Thus the Orpheum actors will be given practically as much time as before to play in, but will divide that time between Sacramento and Oakland. As the consequence of this change in the Orpheum people have proved that this can be done, and done with great success. One can step around to the Oakland Orpheum any day in the week and find a big matinee crowd there. The house is almost invariably well filled at every matinee, while on Saturdays and Sundays it is always a case of "standing room only." The Orpheum never takes a vacation and now the theatrical wise men confidently believe that it will become, more than ever, the marvel of the theatrical world in the West.

PROUD OF ORPHEUM.
Oakland people take pride in the Orpheum. They appreciate its handsome interior, its beautiful stage and comfortable auditorium. The people take pride in its prosperity also, and they will no doubt be pleased at the chance to make the Oakland Orpheum the most successful theater in all the West. Their chances to do this will come in the installation of the new policy of a complete new show each week.

Just as San Francisco boasts of its great Orpheum theater, and has made it one of the famous institutions of the city, so Oakland will now be enabled to make the Oakland Orpheum stand out as one of the tremendously big theatrical propositions of the West. Oakland, by those patrons who have only come once in two weeks heretofore because the show has only changed every two weeks will now come every week, when they can see a complete new show with out any "hold-over" acts. Theatrical experts figure that this should almost double the business of the house, making it a case of a full house at practically every performance during the week. Whatever happens, it is certain that the notable change and improvement in the policy of the Oakland Orpheum will involve a quickening of interest in matters theatrical in the town, and will act as a spur to the theater business as a whole throughout the city.

BABY HURLED TO DEATH BY JAPANESE GIRL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—A cablegram received last night from Bush Flinnell, an attorney, announced the death by drowning at Manila of the two-year-old son of Major and Mrs. Albert E. Truby.

The cablegram said the baby was thrown into the water by a Japanese girl, but it was not specific enough to convey the information that its death resulted from accident or design. Mrs. Truby was Elizabeth Downing before her marriage to Major Truby, who is in the Medical Corps of the army in the Philippines. Attorney Flinnell is an uncle of Mrs. Truby.

PLAN TO ABANDON STREET OPENING

Council Makes Move to Act on Plea of Florio Street
Property Owners.

Abandonment of the proceedings for the opening of Florio street, between College avenue and Ross street, started in June, was forecasted by the city council passing a resolution of intention to open the street, but to rescind all further proceedings. This action was taken after the recommendation of the street commissioner, Clarence Wilson, George G. Bolsson and J. A. Sands, who advised the council that the street had been closed for a considerable time and that it would work considerable hardship upon the property owners.

The expense of proceeding so far, amounting to $160, is provided by the property owners. A larger district is to be established to open the street.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL MAN LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 23.—Ralph Dimick, young attorney, athlete and member of one of Oregon's best known pleasure families, was fatally injured early yesterday by leaping from the window of St. Vincent's Hospital while in delirium caused by illness resulting from an injury sustained in a football game, and died a few minutes later.

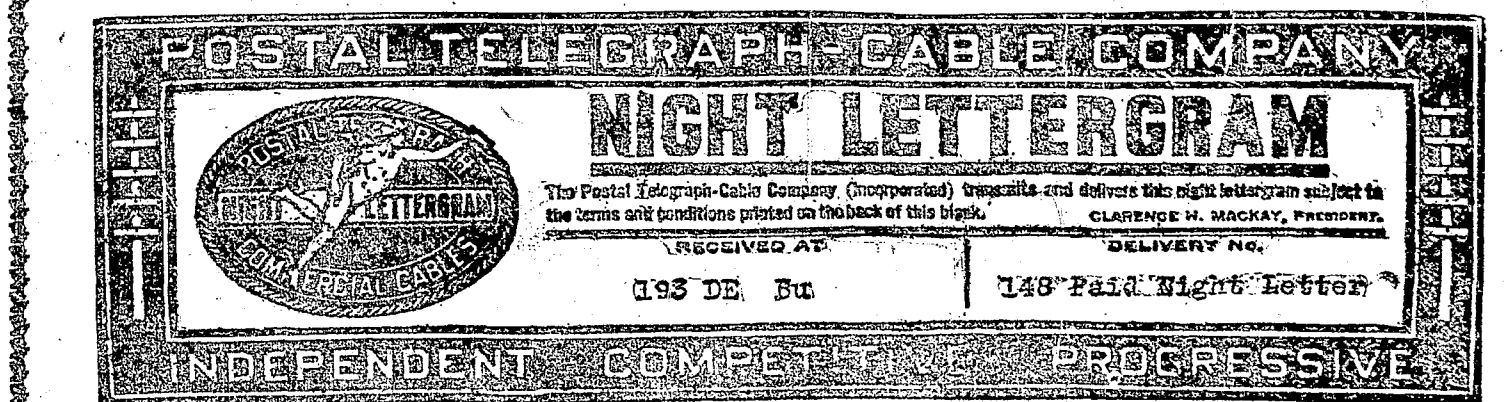

Dimick's injury was sustained on October 14, when he bruised a rib while playing with the alumni team in a student contest at Pacific University, Forest Grove. The injury was neglected and pneumonia developed. At the hospital the nurses were cautioned to watch the young man, but he eluded them on this occasion and leaped from a window before he could be restrained.

Terribly injured, Dimick was borne into the hospital. He recovered consciousness and asked for the last sacrament of the church. This was administered by a nun who was present and Dimick died a moment later.

WOMAN DRINKS POISON THINKING IT MEDICINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Lillian Green of 1603A Turk street was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital at 2:45 this morning suffering from chloroform poisoning. Prompt work on the part of the surgeons restored the woman to consciousness. She said she had swallowed the chloroform, mistaking it for medicine.

Over 182 miles of fine road the Glidden tourists ran from Gettysburg to Staunton today. Penalties were few despite the rigid requirements. The hero of the day was "Pete Kunz" Flanders "20" No. 53, that had been laid out Sunday when in control by another car "Pete" made an ingenious and permanent repair and beat it for Gettysburg which he reached in time to save more than 400 points of his penalty. When he checked out for today's start he was given an ovation by the tourists, all of whom recognized the fact that he had made a remarkably game fight against a handicap for which neither he nor his car was to blame. All the six Flanders checked in with perfect scores for the day's run.

GARDENER RUN DOWN AND KILLED BY AUTOIST

STOCKTON, Oct. 23.—While driving from Stockton to Sacramento at night, J. Wilson, a live stock dealer of San Francisco, ran over and killed Nick Schiomi, an Italian gardener, some three miles north of Stockton. Wilson met three men walking along the road. Two turned to the west, while one went east. He turned to avoid striking the man, who ran directly in front of the machine and was struck down, sustaining a fracture of the skull. Wilson took the man and a companion named Ricci to the emergency hospital, but Schiomi was dead before he reached there. After giving their statements the autoists continued their journey to Sacramento.

The Uprising in China.

The uprising in China is different in character from all the insurrections which have preceded it in modern times. It is essentially an attempt at revolution, an effort to overthrow a dynasty and to put an end to the dominion of a class.

Hitherto insurrections in China have either been rebellions of the people against the oppressions and abuses of viceroys of provinces or rebellions of viceroys who desired to make themselves wholly independent of imperial authority. The present rebellion is an uprising of the people against the Manchu dynasty and against all authority derived even colorably from it. It is not an effort to throw off the yoke of an oppressive viceroy nor a separatist movement. It is an effort of the people to overthrow the imperial system and the Manchu dynasty which heads it.

In some districts the movement is undoubtedly reactionary, being inspired, to some extent, at least, by racial and religious prejudice directed at foreigners, and encouraged by the bonzes or priests who resent the presence and activities of the Christian missionaries. But in the main the uprising is the outgrowth of national sentiment and progressive ideas. It is the first time in a long period that real national sentiment has prompted a revolutionary movement in China. All observers have noted the absence of national sentiment among the Chinese; habit, custom, obedience to authority, and loyalty to the throne taking the place of love of country and pride of nationality.

The example of Japan has doubtless done much to encourage the revolutionists in China, but western ideas imported from the United States and Europe have done much more. Chinese students educated in American, European and Japanese universities have been mortified on their return home to note how unfavorably their own country and its civilization compared with the conditions and civilization prevailing in the more advanced western nations. They have become agitators for reforms which were resisted by the governing caste. The demand for social and political reforms having been denied, the reformers and agitators have set themselves the task of overturning and destroying the system of government which has held China in the shackles of an iron routine, admitting no change in custom and method, no departure from precedent, no development of national spirit and aspiration.

As is usual in such cases the concessions made to modern ideas have been turned against the government. Religious fanaticism and ignorant prejudice are being employed by men who have no sympathy with them as instruments against the imperial machine, which is a vast web of bureaucracy. Even among the most enlightened of the insurrectionary leaders there is a feeling of resentment against foreign intervention in the affairs of China. These men want to free China from the bonds of ignorance, superstition and the inertia of a centralized despotism that she may throw off foreign interference in her affairs and become a strong and really independent power. They want to reorganize China industrially and politically in order to join in the progressive advance of nations and assert her national rights with the same energy and determination shown by the Japanese. They are not prejudiced against foreigners, but they hope to put an end to foreign aggression, to the debased attitude China now occupies before the world.

The reformers have certainly succeeded in arousing the spirit of nationality. They have galvanized the Chinese nation with a new current of thought and a new purpose. The contradictions in the movement they have inaugurated are more seeming than real. National sentiment and aspiration are at the bottom of the uprising, whether it be directed at the missionaries or the officials of a foreign dynasty. It is directed at every invasion of Chinese rights, every institution which puts the Chinese in subjection to the foreigner, whether he be European or Manchu.

The uprising is the most formidable since the Tae-ping rebellion, which was finally suppressed by "Chinese" Gordon, afterward slain at Khartum, but it is wholly different in character and purpose. "China for the Chinese" is its prompting motive.

They ought to send for Ishi and put him on the McNamee jury. He seems ideally qualified for jury duty. He doesn't know a darned thing.

The American Flag in Canada.

The sensational announcement that the American flag had been put under ban in Toronto, Canada, turns out to be not at all serious. The American flag has not been put under ban, and the complaint to that effect, made to frighten the timid and enrage the patriotic on this side of the line, originated with the makers of films for picture shows. The film-makers have been catering to patriotic sentiment in the United States by making the American flag a prominent figure in the pictorial melodramas they put forth.

To the authorities of Toronto some of the melodramas had an appearance of being efforts to propagate a sentiment in favor of annexation. They regarded the fervid American sentiment portrayed in the pictorial skits as offensive to the Canadian spirit of nationality. Therefore all the picture plays in which the display of the American flag was a feature were suppressed. It was a rather peevish expression of pique, but it was quite natural under the circumstances. Nobody is forbidden to display the American flag on appropriate occasions. The national standard of the United States is not under ban in Toronto or any other place in Canada.

Nor are we entirely sure that Americans would relish a continual display of the British flag in picture plays appealing to British pride and patriotism. The controversies growing out of the recent election in Canada, which turned on the reciprocity issue, with which the annexation question became entangled, have not unnaturally made the Canadians somewhat sensitive.

Our own people have been equally sensitive in the past. Shortly after the Civil War the display of the British flag anywhere in the Northern States was calculated to provoke a riot. For years after the last war with England the sight of the British flag aroused the deepest indignation in Americans. Happily that time has gone by. The ancient feeling of hostility to everything British has passed, forever we hope. Canada will likewise get over the animosity against the United States which has been fanned into a flame by her demagogic politicians. It does not amount to anything, anyway, and will pass as other evanescent shades of sentiment flash and flare and die out.

Chinatown is continually perturbed and thrilled by rumors of terrible battles and overwhelming victories for the rebels in China, but the most of these rumors are probably pipe dreams. China is a vast country, and the revolution has not yet touched more than a fourth part of the population. Notwithstanding its external weakness, the imperial system is very firmly fixed and has extraordinary vitality.

HIS THANKSGIVING TURKEY

COLUMBUS DISPATCH.

Bryan and Chief Justice White.

The Grass Valley Union thinks President Taft is morally bound to tell William J. Bryan why he appointed Hon. Edward D. White Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. "There can be no good motive on the part of Taft to remain silent," says the Union.

So President Taft must submit to be catechized by William J. Bryan whenever that pervasive individual takes it into his head to demand explanations of the head of the government. Why is the President bound to answer the questions of Bryan more than the questions of any other citizen? Must he explain to Bryan why he does anything in an official way?

If we are not mistaken the Grass Valley Union commended the appointment of Chief Justice White. It changed its mind about his appointment when the Democrats and insurgents began to make politics of the Standard Oil decision. Yet all the members of the Supreme Court save Justice Harlan concurred in that decision. Among those who signed it are Justices Lamar and Lurton, both Democrats. Taft appointed them. Why does not Bryan ask the President why he appointed Lamar and Lurton? Or why he appointed anybody?

It is an extraordinary notion that the President cannot refuse from good motives to explain his official acts whenever Bryan demands an explanation of him. Is the President responsible to Bryan? Taft defeated Bryan at the polls by an overwhelming majority. Has it come to this, that the elected President must shape his course and make his appointments to please the candidate he defeated?

Bryan found no fault with Chief Justice White's appointment when it was made. He has since found fault with it for the shabbiest of reasons. He is seeking to make political capital of the Standard Oil decision, although that decision was written by a Democrat and concurred in by all the other Democratic members of the Supreme Bench.

Moreover, White was originally appointed to the Supreme Court by Grover Cleveland. Taft did not put him on the bench, he simply promoted him. His power to influence a decision was just as great when he was Associate Justice as it is now that he is the presiding officer of the court.

If the Chinese revolutionary committee in San Francisco will send all the highlanders back across the ocean to do their fighting in the Flowery Kingdom, the American people will gladly pay the cost of transportation.

Saloon men are not alone responsible for attempts to inject saloons in purely residence districts. Real estate brokers and property owners are often to blame for such attempts. The brokers are naturally anxious to make commissions and property owners are equally desirous of getting good rentals, hence there is usually a community of effort in obtaining a license in a residence district.

FREAKS IN HOBOISM

Trundling a wheelbarrow somewhere along Missouri roads is Albert Edmonds who says he will visit all the state capitals within three years and that Elwood, Ind., will give him $10,000 for it. What advantage will it be to Elwoodans if he does it in three years, or in three weeks? Why should they give him $10,000 when to give him $2 would be a waste of money?

A curious variation in hoboism is found in those persons who pretend to be engaged in freakish missions. They are hoboes who still feel that they must offer an excuse for hoboism. Those who proclaim vagabondage as a noble pursuit never explain exactly how they would reap if they lost. They get publicity, but what is this kind of publicity worth to anybody? The stunts are self-appointed and the rewards almost invariably dependent on the generosity of the credulous encountered on route. To visit statehouse towns afoot may seem a laborious way of making a living, but, then, what form of hoboism is not laborious?

If Edmonds were Locke or a Stevenson, to trade his barrow for a donkey or for a fiddle and a dog might duplicate vagabondages whose fascinations have been catalogued for us. But a vagabond who has to have an excuse for his vagabondage is only a spurious imitation. It is a pity that this wasted energy is not directed to more promising purposes. Piles of coal, of paving blocks and building material are everywhere crying out for a man with a wheelbarrow.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE MUSICIAN'S HANDICAP

"We musicians know" that slavery to the printed note is often the final and most fatal bar to spontaneity in performance. Even without all this anxious groping of the eye among the ugly lines and spaces, the player's attention is distracted quite enough. God wot, by the base, physical properties of his instrument, by the acoustics, or a cut finger, or "tutti," contrarious moods of men" in the audience, or by a dozen things else. Woe unto him that is obliged to distract his attention still further from the real matter in hand by equipping at the rude, ink symbols of the composer's meaning through that last straw—vision. It were better for his spontaneity that a milstone were hanged about his neck and fitted up with harp strings and he were allowed to improvise upon them, fancy free. Musicians feel the visual handicap so keenly that many orchestral conductors go to the extreme of committing their scores, which means remembering anywhere from 25 to 250 notes a second for an entire evening, to say nothing of remembering which instrument plays which note, and how loud or soft, with what sort of bowing or tonguing or drum-sticking, how the phrases are to be sculptured, how fast the composer intended each part to be played, and like details. One stands aghast at the magnitude of such a task.—Robert H. Schaeffer in Atlantic.

Big British Battleship

The King George V has been described as the biggest battleship afloat. The accuracy of that may be challenged, for while the exact dimensions of the ship have not been disclosed it is understood on good authority that it is intended to displace only about 24,000 tons, whereas the Argentine monsters recently launched have a tonnage of 27,600 tons and our own Wyoming and Arkansas, which are nearing completion, rate at 26,000. The British ship is, however, the largest ever launched by any European power, and that is the real consideration.

The King George V is believed to be 555 feet long between perpendiculars, or 596 over all, with a beam of eighty-nine feet. It will have four propellers driven by turbine engines with an energy of 31,000 horsepower, which is expected to be sufficient to give it twenty-one knots speed, or half a knot more than the Arkansas was designed to make. The principal battery will consist of ten 13½-inch guns, as against twelve 12-inch guns on the Arkansas. They will be mounted two in each of five turrets placed along the center line of the ship and of such graduated heights that it will be possible to fire four guns ahead and one astern, and of course all ten in broadside. The secondary battery will consist of four-inch guns, while that of the Arkansas contains twenty-one five-inch guns.

Comparisons apart, the new British ship is obviously one of the most formidable in the world and gives earnest of a determination to maintain the supreme naval power of the British empire. The receipt report of a change of policy, in the construction of smaller vessels, has not yet been certified by actual construction or contract, though it was made since the King George V was laid down. That it will be verified is regarded by many as doubtful. If the 13½-inch guns prove successful, as they are expected to do, despite some demoralizing results of their firing on the Orion, it may be held that in order to secure sufficient stability for a battery of ten or even more of them a vessel of more than 20,000 tons is necessary. In that case the dream of smaller and less costly ships fades away and the tremendous burden of monstrous floating fortresses continues.—New York Tribune.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by an Oakland Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Oakland prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

J. J. Wangan, 753 Market street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I owe a great deal to Doan's Kidney Pills, for they cured me of kidney complaint. My back pained me intensely and I was in misery both day and night. The kidney secretions were disordered and I was subject to headache and attacks of dizziness. My condition grew worse as time passed and there seemed to be no help for me. At last it was my good fortune to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and believing it worth while to try them, I obtained a box. In a short time after beginning their use I could see their beneficial effect and I continued to improve until my back was strong and free from pain. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for my cure, as they were the only medicine I used. During the past two years not a symptom of my former complaint has returned. I have told a number of my friends and fellow workmen what Doan's Kidney Pills did for me and I have recommended them to every opportunity."

AS TO PAW-PAWS

Rich is the country boy these days, surveying with expert eye certain edible treasures that are spread out on the warped shingles of the woodshed. Now and then he clips a coupon, when one of his persimmons appears to have grown deliciously ripe without waiting for the flavor of frost, or when some one's annoying delay about sounding the dinner bell compels him to spend a paw-paw. He and the "possums" and "coons" and hedgehogs are not in sympathy with recent attempts to Burbank some of autumn's choicest wild fruits. If the old order changeth, giving place to new, as the Department of Agriculture's scientists have planned, and well tended orchards of puckerless, seedless persimmons as large as tomatoes and of considerable commercial value succeed to thickets, the chief beneficiary of the present system (like many another Stand-patter of great wealth) may expect to encounter serious restraints upon his appetite. Yet keenly as he would feel the loss of benefits accruing from control of the persimmon crop, he would still be far from bankrupt. I've have mentioned paw-paws; and, besides these, his depository for autumn treasures may draw upon such resources as red haws, elderberries, wild grapes and plums. The paw-paw is not only a keen delight, but also an extensive one. Wild plums are becoming too scarce in most places to be regarded seriously as a staple ration; a red haw is but a nibble of a tiny scarlet apple; wild grapes and elderberries are even smaller and less satisfying than haws. But a paw-paw is good for almost as many mouthfuls as a banana. Justice-loving nature causes it to prosper only in such remote places that it becomes a reward to undaunted pedestrianism. "Distance don't mean nothing" to 'a body that wants a paw-paw." A Missouri river hermit has declared. Yet distance means that country boys usually prove themselves the most ardent lovers of a fat wild fruit of autumn which grows most plentifully in almost inaccessible bottomlands or on difficult hillsides.—Collier's Weekly.

"GENUINE IMPORTED"

This is the season when merchants in America are advertising those classy-out clothes from Mayfair, High Holborn and Piccadilly, and other products of the sartorial art of the tight little island, along with foreign bolt goods to be made up.

Strange coincidence: This is also the season when Rochester ready-made suits, Troy collars, New York ties and Massachusetts shoes are extensively advertised and widely sold in England. We seem to be exporting manufactured clothing at the rate of $6,000,000 or more a year, and of boots and shoes to Great Britain alone more than $1,500,000 a year. To a less extent the same is true of Paris. We display her goods, she boasts of selling ours. "Genuine imported" is a phrase to appeal. Perhaps a salt-water voyage improves clothes as it used to ripen Madeira wine. At any rate, after the fussy youth of London have put on our clothes and the fussy youth of New York have put on theirs, paying freight and tariff for the privilege, both parties to the exchange set out of a sunny afternoon in serene satisfaction with wearing something just a little different—New York World.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

In the presence of a large number of their many friends, Miss Annie J. Gurnett and Thaddeus E. Grimes embarked on the sea of matrimony last night.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gurnett, who have resided here for many years, and are much esteemed. She is a very accomplished young lady and a favorite wherever she goes. Among those invited to the marriage ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Tubbs, Rev. Dr. McChesney and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Fardee, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Johnson, Miss M. Alice Grimes, Miss Nellie Chabot and Miss Grace Livermore.

At noon tomorrow the Athenian club will begin its long contemplated service of meals to its members. A chef of recognized ability has been engaged and all the arrangement of the club cuisine are completed.

To the attraction of Piedmont there has been added a splendid water supply. This removes the last disadvantage hanging over that wonderfully favored suburb.

Edward L. Wigham has returned to Berkeley and professes to be glad to be back. He has been visiting for several months in the northern part of the state.

The charity ball, which the ladies of the Fabiola Hospital association have been arranging, takes place at Cavalry hall this evening.

The Native Sons will play baseball at the Oakland grounds next Sunday afternoon. The contest will be between teams from Sequoia parlor and Piedmont parlor. The sports enjoyed a fine day's racing at the Bay District track yesterday. The three favorites, Acclaim, Motto and Nevada, each won their races easily, but the short-end, Revolver, beat the favorite, John Treat.

When the society people of Oakland are called to respond to a worthy charity they do not hesitate, and this fact was demonstrated last night, when by their presence they made the charity ball at Cavalry Hall a success. The scene presented in the magnificently decorated hall was one long to be remembered. Among those present were Mrs. Reni Chabot, Miss Pringle, Miss Griffin, Mrs. G. M. Stolz, Mrs. George Comstock, Miss Kirkham, Mrs. Pedar Sather, Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. H. R. Miller, Harry Haight, George McNamee, Leo Burnham, Earl Knowles, George D. Dornin, R. A. Ferry, Mr. Penoyer, Fred Dalloway and Paul Lohse.

Valentine Hush has gone East on a business trip.

After four years' absence in the East, Europe and Africa Mr. and Mrs. Sumner W. Bugbee have returned to Oakland, satisfied that there is no place like California.

Yesterday Harry L. Coleman was unanimously elected Superintendent of the Oakland Consolidated Street Railroad Company. Today he resigned his position and his resignation was accepted. Coleman gave as his reason for resigning his desire to enter upon another field of employment.

The marriage of W. J. Duncan and Miss Maggie Ferguson was solemnized at the Clayton Congregational church, Clayton, Sunday October 25. Both the bride and groom are well known in church circles.

Miss Ruth Benson of Alameda is visiting friends in San Jose.

Mrs. Zeno Mauvais and Lutelle Mauvais are in Santa Barbara.

"After much discussion and many questions as to the possibilities of success, the Athenian Club opened its kitchen and dining room today. The chef was duly installed as were also his assistants.

Powers and his "Straight Tip" have been doing a nice business at the California—a big business when the counter attractions are considered.

Spring Valley Company's Employees Believed in the Field.

LIVERMORE, Oct. 23.—A corps of surveyors is employed in the county north of this place determining the extent and capacity of the Las Positas creek and ascertaining the water level in the country tributary to that stream.

The men in the party refuse to say by whom they are employed, but it is believed on good authority that they represent the Spring Valley Water Company, which is preparing to acquire the lands in this section.

It is now believed that the supposed government agent who was looking over the surrounding country some time ago was an advance agent of the company.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep at night. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish my letter."—MRS. NATHAN B. GREATER, 61 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

HAYWARD, Oct. 23.—A try-out shoot was held by the men of Company H, N. G. C., yesterday on the local range under the supervision of Captain McConnell. They made a good showing and it is more than likely that several of the men will be eligible to compete in the State shoot for which the various companies of the National Guard are now qualifying.

The company was in the field under the command of Captain J. J. Borree and the first and second lieutenants. At present the local company has the highest score in target shooting of any of the companies of the Fifth Infantry. Captain McConnell was appointed to make the official report of the scores.

ATTEMPT TO MAKE
STEGE A DRY TOWN

Anti-Saloon League Plans a Campaign to Close Up the Liquor Establishments.

STEGE, Oct. 23.—Steps are to be taken at once, it is said, to bring the officers of the Anti-Saloon League into the supervisory district in an attempt to secure a "dry" election. The thirty-six saloons in this part of Contra Costa county are to be closed. It is claimed the proposition to annex this district to Richmond, fearing that the present license granted them by the supervisors of the county, will keep open all night, to have side entrances for women and to run dance halls, would not be allowed by the trustees of Richmond if incorporation were secured.

The votes of the women are relied upon by the opponents of the saloons to wipe out conditions which a town trustee of Albany said yesterday were worse than on the Barbary Coast in San Francisco. Young girls are being lured to Stege, to drink and to engage in wild dances.

Condition of protest against one of the saloons is now before the board of supervisors.

PULLMAN WORKER
COMMITTS SUICIDE

Financial Reasons Are Given as Cause of Act of Paul Wierche.

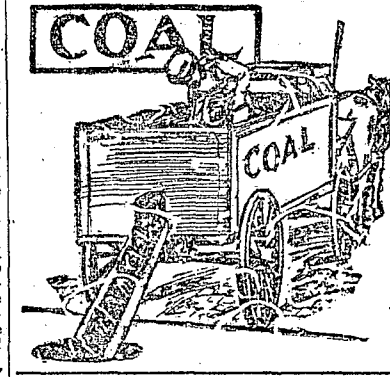

PULLMAN, Oct. 23.—Paul Wierche, an employee of the Pullman car shops, committed suicide on Saturday, near the car shops, by hanging himself from a tree. The dead man was a German, about 58 years old, and his act is supposed to have been due to despondency, due to lack of funds and poor health. He had been here only a few weeks, coming from Vancouver, where he was a member of the Building Trades Council. No arrangements for the funeral will be made until word is received from the dead man's son, who lives at Willets, this state.

For some time Wierche had threatened suicide, following complaints to his fellow-workmen of straitened circumstances. But he had recently received money from his son, according to letters found on his person, and for several weeks had been regularly employed in the car shops.

PULL OUT A HAIR
The Way to Tell Whether or Not Your Hair Is Diseased

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. Ninety-eight per cent of the people need a hair tonic. You can make a test yourself that will tell you whether your hair is healthy or not. Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it will not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and eradicate baldness.

Out of 100 cases where it was given a thorough conscientious test, it grew hair on 93 heads, which should be sufficient proof that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic contains extraordinary remedial and hair-growing qualities. It is because of our knowledge of this preparation and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is a clean, clear preparation which does not grease, gum or thicken the hair and it has a very pleasant odor. We have it in two sizes, prices 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at The Owl Drug Co., Inc., 10th and Washington, 13th and Broadway, 16th and San Pablo.

HOW TO BURN COKING COAL

Coking coals have the greatest efficiency and are much more economical and satisfactory to the consumer who understands how to burn them. The majority of consumers do not realize that a coking coal during the coking process expands, consequently in firing it the mistake is often made by putting the same quantity of coking coal into the stove that they do a non-coking coal, whereas they should use one-third less of the coking coal; otherwise when the coal commences to coke and expand the combustion is retarded and not complete, resulting in the gases and volatile matter not being consumed, thereby losing a good portion of the value of the coal and creating soot.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

RENO'S COLONY FLOURISHES NO MORE

RENO, Oct. 23.—The wave of moral reform has struck Nevada at last with regard to the divorce situation, and a comparison of the divorce complaints filed during the last few months with the number filed a year ago shows a great falling off. The first hard knock to the local colony came when the district judges compelled husbands who were here suing for divorce to advance travelling expenses for the absent wives that they might appear and defend the suit in person.

Following this came a charge by attorneys that fellow practitioners were stealing their cases. Then came the numerous cases of warrants for husbands charging desertion, of which seven were on record here at one time. Each was followed by attempts to secure liberty by divorce proceedings.

Prominent lawyers here state that the divorce business is gradually dying out and that it is almost certain that the next legislature will change the laws in respect to the six months' residence requirement, making the required stay to obtain citizenship at least a year.

Coming for Bride

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 23.—H. C. Akeley, 75 years old, millionaire lumberman and for a quarter of a century prominently identified with the development of the Northwest, is on his way to Long Beach, Cal., there to claim Mrs. Clara Rood Royce as a bride.

Akeley took steps before his departure to wind up his business affairs, with a view to making his future home in California.

Just before his departure Akeley said he was seeking the "simple life."

"At my age," he said, "one comes to realize that it is worry that kills. For Wagner had the right idea. The 'simple life' appeals to me. I will live in California."

Akeley met Mrs. Royce last winter while on his annual visit to California.

Nordica Is Busy

SPOKANE, Oct. 23.—Lillian Nordica breezed into Spokane yesterday by seizing a broom from the porter's hands as he was sweeping the steps and remarking, "Let me do it; you don't know how to keep house."

She followed this by attending street meetings of the Salvation Army and praising the sunshine of Spokane as she saw the city on foot.

Encountering a meeting of the Industrial Workers of the World, Mme. Nordica criticized Alfred Beck, a member of the organization, who sold her a copy of "Fan the Flames of Discontent."

"Why don't you try to spread the flames of happiness?" she asked.

Beck replied that he had come from Germany and had to do something to better his cause, as workmen "are not treated right."

"If you are discontented, why don't you go back to your own country?" continued the songstress.

"We are a progressive people here and believe in spreading happiness and contentment."

Your Daughter's Hair

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

THERE is nothing more beautiful upon a child than a soft tint of babyish gold in its hair and practically every young mother of a curly-locked, golden-haired baby is possessed with a desire to retain this glorious aureole in all its pristine beauty. However, when the time comes that this childish crown is to be changed to the permanent color of after life, to attempt to delay it by artificial means always results in evil.

Some mothers use an alkaline wash, like a solution of borax and ammonia, or perhaps peroxide of hydrogen, to retain the golden hue. This always produces an excessive dryness of the scalp and a loss of the delicate and imperfectly developed hair. In other cases an abnormally oily condition of the scalp is produced, equally detrimental.

Have you ever noticed how few heads of hair are of uniform color throughout, especially at the back of the head where the hair is very fine? With care and training this condition can be avoided in childhood. The hair on the back of the head, if allowed to remain fine, will be lighter, but by constant clipping and singeing if the process is given in childhood its color will become darker like the rest of the hair.

Do not use a great deal of water on your child's hair. Wash it at regular intervals and dry it carefully and quickly. Daily sopping of the hair with water is injurious, for it has a tendency not only to bleach it, but to make it brittle.

The time to begin cutting a child's hair depends upon its natural development and growth. Some infants have a luxuriant growth of hair at birth, others scarcely any. When you notice that your child's hair is beginning to look ragged and uneven, then is the time to use the shears, whether the child is a month or a year old. The point is to keep the length uniform. The general custom of cutting a child's hair in Dutch fashion is good for it.

Never use stiff brushes or fine combs upon your child's scalp. If you find a yellow crust of dandruff upon the baby's head, soak the scalp with olive oil for a few hours and then wash with pure soap and dry. Follow this daily until the crust has been removed, letting the oil do its work, but always be careful not to scratch or irritate the scalp.

There is nothing more beautiful in a child or a woman than hair of a clear uniform color, whatever that color may be, and it is one of a mother's first duties to see that her child's hair is properly taken care of so that it will show this uniformity and perfect health. Remember, the greatest obstacles to health and beauty are prejudice and ignorance.

methods by which a number of my friends develop their busts.

MRS. G.: I am sending you the recipe for an inexpensive, harmless bleach for the neck and face and a simple remedy to prevent constipation. There are many good powders on the market and I advise you to buy one of the best makes, instead of trying to make some yourself, as they are not easy to put together and require a good deal of sifting through muslin before they are ready to be used. Ask your druggist to recommend a powder that is good and reliable. Be sure to select the tint which comes nearest to matching your skin.

MRS. L.: I advise you to massage your daughter's scalp if her hair is thin and dry. Massage is absolutely necessary in keeping the scalp in good condition. It is the main working principle of all the hair tonics. The hair tonic which is not "rubbed in" according to directions is not guaranteed to cure, you will note on the bottle. It stimulates the sluggish circulation, opens the pores and excites the glands to attend to their duty of oiling and lubricating the roots. I cannot give you the complete instructions for scalp massage until I receive the self addressed stamped envelope for a personal reply, because it would require too much space to print them. When you send the envelope I shall send you recipes for a simple tonic which you may use freely on the child's scalp and for a shampoo for her hair, as well as the instructions for scalp massage.

Suit Is Dropped

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—Because important witnesses are not available, some of them being out of the country, the United States Oil and Land Company has withdrawn its suit against Mrs. Teresa Bell, a wealthy oil and land owner of San Francisco. The suit involves 10,000 acres of rich oil land in Santa Barbara county. Its estimated value being $4,000,000. Mrs. Bell arrived in Santa Barbara on the date set for the hearing, but when she appeared in the Superior Court she was informed that Attorney J. L. Crittenden, acting for the plaintiff, had withdrawn the suit.

To Live South

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—Miss Marguerite Doe, a charming society girl of San Francisco, who came to Santa Barbara early last spring with her mother and who has reigned as a social favorite in Montecito circles ever since, has decided to make her permanent home in Santa Barbara's fashionable suburb.

She let a contract on Saturday for the erection of a beautiful home on one of the most slightly properties in the Montecito valley.

Miss Doe ranks among the wealthy unmarried girls of California. On her 18th birthday she was presented with $1,000,000, and it is said her fortune is to be greatly increased in coming years.

War on Prices

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.—At a meeting to be held in this city an Eat-No-Eggs Club will be formed. The women interested in the project propose to refrain from the use of eggs in cooking until the market takes a drop.

Fresh ranch eggs are now selling on the market here at 50 cents a dozen, a price which has not been equalled but once here in twenty years. Although there is a scarcity among the producing sections, the women, in their call for a meeting, claim that cold storage is responsible for a large part of the 50 cents a dozen.

Honeymoon in Box Car

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Held for examination as to their sanity, a bride and bridegroom found asleep in a freight car by the police told yesterday of their start in matrimony on a capital of $2. George Burch, the husband, is 30 years old. His wife, Mabel, is 28. Although Burch said that he and his bride had not tasted food for more than two days, his only possession being an old newspaper clipping.

According to the police, Burch said he and his wife escaped from the home for feeble-minded at Hartland, Mich., several days ago.

Will Not Fight Suit

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.—A. A. West, the mysterious "man from Mexico," who is in the city jail charged with vagrancy after a luxurious week, during which he fitted up extravagant offices, married his stenographer on six days' acquaintance and purchased an automobile and jewels without paying any cash, told the jailers yesterday that he will not contest his wife's suit for divorce.

URGES DEMOCRACY WITHIN CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Coffman Speaks at Installation of Officers.

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—That the church must be as democratic in its government as the people are, is a successful fulfillment its mission was the opinion expressed by the pastor, Rev. Wilmer E. Coffman, at the installation of officers in the Marine Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening, and Mr. Coffman prophesied that away the churches having authority centralized in bishops would more and more be controlled by the entire membership, which would also elect the clergymen instead of leaving them to the control of their own associates and successors, as is now the practice in the Methodist Episcopal church.

"Office-holding in the church," he pastor said, "gives power for good or for evil. A pastor or an official member who goes wrong does greater injury to the cause he represents and to the community than a man who is not an officer. The other hand, office holding increases one's opportunities for service, just as church membership itself does. Therefore, the church should encourage the pastor or deacon who runs off with his neighbor's wife than to the average man who is a member and does nothing." He said to the church over which the Holy Spirit hath made you overseer."

game would go only seven innings, but when the Seaside team was down to its seventh, Wolverton insisted on an extra inning. When the Oaks put over one run, the referee refused to allow the Seaside to advance any more, and Oakland took the game, 8 to 7.

Wolverton had the pleasure of fanning Tiedemann, Zacher and Coy, while Wolverton fanned Shinn and Halseter. Madson was fanned by the pitcher, who was decorated with a green ribbon, and he got a hit with it.

Wolverton pitched out the Oaks in the first game. Martinioli was effective after the first inning. In that frame two

The score by the Century players was the result of an intersected forward pass. The forwarder gaining possession of the ball and eluding the opposing players for a 10 yard run. The goal was kicked. The

WATCHES BURGLAR COUPLE QUARREL WORK NEXT DOOR

But Mrs. Winson Forgets to Call the Police and Intruder Makes His Escape.

So interested was Mrs. S. Winson in watching a burglar engaged in looting the house of her neighbor, W. W. Wright, 246 John street, that she did not think to notify the police for half an hour after she had observed the man break into the house. Wright, a neighbor, and Wright, after notifying the police, took a revolver and started in pursuit of the burglar. The burglar started to run and the man escaped.

Mrs. Winson saw the burglar climb the rear fence of the Wright property, and crawl through a basement window. The burglar was away from home yesterday afternoon, and almost hypnotized by the actions of the burglar as he passed from room to room, gathering clothes, silverware, jewelry and other valuables for his plunder sack. Finally after he had been working for almost half an hour, and about ready to leave, he saw the police on the telephone.

The pursuit undertaken by Wright and the police in vain, as the burglar made his way over fences and through the streets to escape and safety. Finding himself observed, the burglar abandoned a portion of his loot, but escaped with three revolvers and jewelry valued at $29 in his possession.

MANY ARE REPORTED. Other burglaries and thefts reported to the police are as follows: A. H. Hamilton, 17 Washington street, premises entered last night and $100 in coin, suit of clothes, and other valuables taken; John J. Walter Robinson of 1755 Seventh street, room entered and clothing valued at $15 taken. E. C. Veeder of 584 Twentieth street, premises entered and overcoat and gloves valued at $10 taken.

Frank Morchio and V. S. Andrus of 671 B. Tenth street, premises entered and $10 in valuables taken. The United Transfer company reported to the police that a thief carried away from a wagon standing at the corner of Twenty-eighth and Market streets, dresses and other articles, valued at $100, and $100, and Mrs. E. L. Curtis, 2540 College avenue.

Philip J. Marquette, 158 Second street, had suitcases containing clothing and other articles, valued at $25, from a room at 894 Webster street, Saturday night. A woman and a girl, both of whom were stolen from the room of William Fritz, 177 Seventh street.

DYSPEPSIA-PROOF

How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed by Any Stomach

Costs You Nothing to Try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Men, as a rule, are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will be in being able to stand the flash. It was only in this way that Mr. White ever knew that dyspepsia was one of Mr. Black's worst enemies. Sitting face to face at a two-by-four table, he handed his afflicted friend the bill of fare:

Oyster Cocktail. Stuffed Olives. Boston Clam Chowder. Strained Gumbo. Sliced Steak with Mushrooms. Roast Beef Hash. Boiled Ox Tongue with Sauerkraut. Lobster a la Newburg. Baked Pork and Beans. Combination Crab Salad. Hot Mince Pie. Pineapple Fritters.

Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Mr. Black, black ordered crackers and a glass of milk. "I had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. White could not be deceived. "I am afraid you can't stand the gleam, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll always have that hungry look, anyhow, as long as you have dyspepsia. Now listen. My stomach was in just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder or sirloin steak or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirit, of your energy and ability to think quickly. I can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do," and thereat the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet. There, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient, one grain of which digests 300 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. The reason is it relieves the stomach of nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juice. I can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package.

Yes, it is true, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets absolutely stop heartburn, nausea, indigestion, dyspepsia of the worst type, sour stomach, bloaty feeling and all eruptions and irritation, and freshen and invigorate the stomach. They cheer you up, and make you get all the good there is in your food. You will forget you ever had stomach to worry you. Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

MOORE IS SPECIFIC IN COUNTER SUIT

Capitalist Mentions Times and Places When He Answers His Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—J. J. Moore, capitalist and clubman, who replied to the divorce proceedings sought against him last week by Lillian Wagner-McCarthy-Moore by declaring his wife had neglected her home life after becoming a member of a fast social set of San Mateo, has filed a counter-suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty.

Moore's complaint was placed on secret file after he had it recorded on Saturday, and the details of the charges have not become known. It is said, however, that he is specific and mentions times and places in his bill. In making verbal reply to his wife's suit last week, Moore said that the set to which she belonged drank altogether too many cocktails, smoked altogether too many cigarettes and engaged in altogether too much gambling.

Mrs. Moore professed to be altogether amazed that her husband associated her name with these forms of diversion, and said the charges were no more true than the statement he made that she was 46 years old.

DENIES SEEING 46 SUMMERS.

"Really, now, do you think I look like a woman of 46?" was the way she phrased her last night's questions.

Although the details of Moore's charges of cruelty have been kept secret, it is said that he has made no attempt to include in his complaint any reference to cocktail-drinking, cigarette-smoking and bridge whist gambling among the social set of San Mateo.

E. B. McClanahan, one of the attorneys associated with counsel for Moore, refused last night to discuss the complaint other than to say it was deemed advisable to keep it secret for the present.

The case will come up in the Superior Court next Thursday, when the order for which Mrs. Moore has asked to restrain her husband from disposing of his property and her petition for alimony pending the outcome of her suit will be disposed of.

ALASKAN QUESTION UP FOR ANSWER IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Official announcement of the government's policy concerning the Alaskan coal fields is scheduled as the most important feature of the fourteenth annual session of the American Mining Congress October 24 to 28, inclusive. Secretary of the Interior Fisher is on the program to speak Friday and President Taft is scheduled to give an address Saturday on "The Federal Government and the Mining Industry."

According to Secretary Gahbreath of the mining congress, who has opened the quarters here, positive assurance has been received from Secretary Fisher that he will make public the conservation policy of President Taft.

Another feature of the congress will be a conference of Governors of coal-bearing states. A scheme of uniform legislation to govern the coal mining industry will be presented for ratification.

MISTAKES FRIEND FOR DEER; USUAL RESULT

PORTLAND, Oct. 23.—John Bousier was shot and fatally wounded near Seaplace, thirty miles from here, by Herman Clausenius Jr., who mistook him for a deer. He died within an hour.

Bousier and Clausenius were friends and had been hunting companions and made trips for ten years past. "We knew each other's methods perfectly," Clausenius said, "but he had often remarked that there was no danger of our shooting each other by mistake. We separated this morning and Bousier said he would pass round a small bill one way while I went the other way. Instead, he turned and fired at me. I had just seen a deer when his head came in sight. I thought it was the deer and fired."

Clausenius went for help and then surrendered to the Sheriff, but was not arrested.

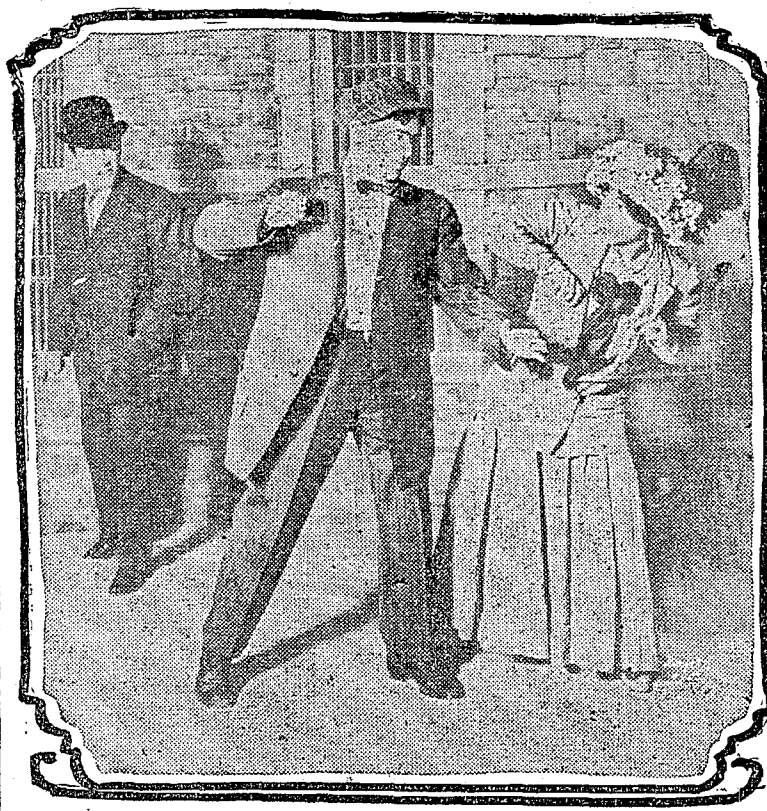

THIEF SHOTS WHEN CAUGHT AT HIS WORK

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 23.—Two masked highwaymen early yesterday robbed M. Lorenz, proprietor of a saloon at Healdsburg, of $365 after they had bound and gagged him, stuffing a towel into the victim's mouth with the butt of a revolver. Upon leaving the place the bandits shot Angelo Barschio, a young Italian who was approaching the saloon on a bicycle. Barschio rode to the city hall and gave the alarm and was then rushed to the hospital. He is not expected to live. Two suspects, Bert Fratt and E. W. Hayton, were arrested today and are being held.

YOUTHFUL HUNTER IS KILLED BY OWN GUN

EUREKA, Oct. 23.—Philip Matthews, 18 years old, was killed yesterday while hunting ducks on the bay in company with two friends. They had taken a stand behind a blind on the shore, when a gun in the hands of Matthews was discharged. The charge entered his abdomen, tearing a jagged hole. Matthews died shortly after being removed to the hospital. The safety attachment on the gun was out of order.

'ROMANCE OF UNDERWORLD' IS PICTURE FROM REAL LIFE

(By LEO LEVY.)

Stupendousness and stupidity are wont to tread the boards of amusement hand in hand. Recall some extravagant and the larger circus productions and you'll see what we mean. That's why "A Romance of the Underworld" is as much a vaudeville wonder as the billboard says it is, to apply the thing negatively. It is also one of the reasons why Paul Armstrong feared to try it on the audience for many months after he wrote it.

"A Romance of the Underworld" is going to head the Oakland Orpheum's bill for this week only. The "only" is a precaution. You must see the sketch to believe it. It isn't, as the press agent has led you to believe, a mere thing of pomp and circumstance, like a 24-story building. It has to commend it more than twenty-three actors, three scenes, a monumental staging problem and a formidable salary list. Nor is it merely the realization of ambition to do something greater than the other fellow. "A Romance of the Underworld" has a splendor that has made it more than a mere thing of pomp and circumstance. Through it reason for being.

PICTURE FROM LIFE.

"With illustrations by Paul Armstrong" may well be quoted at the top of the daily budget of news gathered by the police court reporter. Those who pilot skills on the undercurrent of the city have been painted into the Orpheum condensation by a careful artist. They are all there, human ovis who blink at the light of day and come forth to

NOY SEEKS WORD OF SUBWAY WORK

Alameda Mayor Tells of Interest in Progress of Tunnel.

That public interest is growing on the proposition to construct a subway under the estuary to relieve the commerce of Oakland harbor of the obstruction occasioned by the maintenance of the Harrison and Webster street drawbridge, is evidenced by the following communication read before the Board of Supervisors this morning:

"To the Hon. the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County:

"Gentlemen: I would be thankful to your honorable body if you could give me any information as to the progress being made by the subway committee, as many of our citizens are particularly interested in that improvement and constantly appeal to me for information on the subject."

"Trusting that you are successful in your efforts and that in the near future the citizens of Oakland and Alameda may have an assurance that the completion of the subway is not far distant, I am, yours very truly,

"W. H. NOY,

"Mayor of the City of Alameda."

The communication was filed and Mayor Noy will be duly advised of the present status and progress made on the project.

GUATEMALAN CONSUL DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Filipe Estrada Pandiagua, consul-general of Guatemala, who succeeded Filipe Galicia last August, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock after an illness of eight days.

He attended the Taft banquet at the Palace Hotel, and missing his car, walked home in the early morning and took a severe cold that affected his heart.

He was a native of Guatemala City, 44 years old, and a graduate of the Guatemala University.

He is survived by a widow and five children, the eldest, Carlos, being 14 years and the youngest 6 months.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

OLIVE INDUSTRY OF STATE ON INCREASE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—According to F. D. Butterfield, president of the Los Angeles Olive Growers' association, the olive and olive oil industry of California this year will show an increase of 15 per cent over 1910. It will be one of the greatest years both in the production and in the marketing of olives in the history of the state. Against last year's output of 300,000 gallons of olive oil this year's total will be 345,000 gallons, an increase of 150,000 gallons. One million gallons of pickled olives was the crop of 1910. This year will show an increase of 150,000 gallons.

AUSTRALIAN BOYS GIVE CONCERT.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.—The boys of the Young Australia League, who gave two vaudeville performances at a local theater to big crowds, gave the railroad concert in the open air at Congress Springs yesterday before an enthusiastic crowd of pleasure seekers.

ALL IS WELL DONE.

The story that binds "A Romance of the Underworld" is told quickly and told well by those in whose hands have fallen the task. "No wreck, revenge for Grace McGraw's refusal of his wealth and himself, O'Leary, a political power, drives the spikes into the ties over which Herbert Elliot, her sweetheart, is to be herded to prison. He who gloats is lost, however, O'Leary discovers when he forgets the first commandment of the politician's decalogue, "Thou Shalt Not Blabber." McDermott, a fledgling lawyer, stumbles over the fact that O'Leary has had a crook "taken" a quantity of stolen jewelry in Elliot's pocket and has had him unjustly accused. Through an appeal to "Dago Annie's" moral of pity, "Slippery Jake" reveals the name of the man who carried out O'Leary's plan, and Elliot is rescued just as the prisoners start for a change of residence. And before we forget it, O'Leary is arrested on the spot, and virtue cuts another notch in her six-shooter.

Scientally, "A Romance of the Underworld" is a thing of more than mere magnitude. It is a stage problem, the solution of which is a credit to the craft.

MAGPIE AND THE JAY.

If you are convinced that the truly rural is poor stage material, see Maud Hall Macy and her players on "The Magpie and the Jay." Your conviction isn't worth a thinker's piffle in the face of that argument. The star, a Brown girl, Bessie Carlton's old maid and Jack Drummer's farmer are three in a class of realism that lacks pupils. The tabloid is polished clean of hackneyism and nasal twangs. Neither does it smell to heaven of new mown hay and dry rot. As if to keep up the good work and go one better, Charles and Fannie Van follow with "A Case of Emergency." The two are fun makers de luxe, and maintain their reputation as such. It is harder work to maintain a reputation than to build one. Which is not what the moralists teach, but take a look at the stage. Personally goes a long way with the Vans, much further than the material of their act.

BLACK FACE SISTERS.

To the Nichols Sisters, with their giggles and wide expense limbs, yesterday's Orpheum audience accorded a joyful reception. The team is a happy combination of melody and fun, melodious enough to be actually tuneful and funny enough to be gleeful. The Four Floos, acrobatic clowns, are candidates for the applause of the younger generation. The International Polo Teams, World and Kingston and The Avon Comedians are held over this week.

From all of which you gain the idea that this Orpheum bill is vaudeville of a higher order.

LUCKY OLD PEOPLE

Have Seen Wonderful Progress From Ox-Carts to Aeroplanes.

What wonderful progress the old people of today have lived to see. In their young days the railroad was as much of a novelty as the aeroplane is now, and nearly everything else has progressed as much.

Another modern idea is that people may be active and vigorous at 75 or 80 years if they will be careful to keep up their strength.

Mr. Jno. N. Kelly, aged 75, who lives at Lake Charles, La., says he was badly run down from overwork, and took two or three bottles of Vinol by advice of his druggist. He is now better than for the past ten years and actually feels fifteen years younger.

There is certainly nothing like Vinol for delicious cod liver and iron preparation, to build up and keep up all weakened, run down persons. It is especially good for old people, too, because it is very pleasant to take and agrees with the stomach. There is no cod liver oil in Vinol. We guarantee it to give you perfect satisfaction.

Here Are Real Values in Used Pianos

Would you like a STEINWAY Grand that would pass for a new Piano, even among musicians? It is here, at a rock-bottom price. If you prefer a WEBER, CHICKERING or KNABE, you may have them at the same price which we allowed for them in exchange. If a BALDWIN, IVERS & POND, FISCHER, A. B. CHASE or a KOHLER & CHASE, a STECK, or KRELL, a Pianola or an Angelus Piano, the opportunity is equally good. In fact, every kind, make and type of Piano, all slightly used, are on sale now at prices that are made lower than such Pianos have ever been marketed.

Briefly, here is the proposition: Selling Mason & Hamlin and Angelus Player-Pianos brings dozens of other high-class instruments in exchange, crowding our floors with a stock of used Pianos in the very busiest season of the year. We MUST SELL THEM to make good each original deal. Therefore, we are offering them at prices which we KNOW will clean house for us this week. The sale began Monday morning and Saturday will see every one taken. When you see the Pianos and the prices, you can not but appreciate what real values we are now offering. Make it your special business to come in to day. You will be amply repaid. Or, phone us, Oakland 2037, after looking over the partial list, and we will reserve any Piano you may indicate for your inspection. But ACT QUICKLY—OTHERS WILL. Country orders given especial attention.
